Note 25% of the print run of issue 15 appeared as "ash can" copies. There is no price on the cover, the ground on the cover is brown (not grey/green) and there is a contents banner at the top of the cover. While this is obviously scarcer than the regular edition the Price Guide cannot offer a precise different value at this time though a figure of £7.50 has been suggested in questionnaires

Note: a print run of over 2 5 million copies makes this one of the best selling comics of modern times

The Blue Lizard Spiderman:

Note also that a printing defect on the silver ink/black cover unbagged (and possibly bagged) editions that came to this country (apparently only to the North of England) shows a blue coloured Lizard in a couple of panels The number of copies is alleged to be anything from 200 1 500 but more are suspected This anomaly is duly noted but no firmly established value can be given for it even though isolated copies have been sold at a wide range of premium prices An average now seems to be £5.00-£10.00

Note also that pre-bagged copies of the gold edition have been sighted but these have been constructed outside Marvel Comics as they never officially designed this pack

Note also that up to 40 000 copies of the regular green and silver editions were officially signed by Todd McFarlane in gold ink on the cover They would have an added value though counterfeits have been known Genuine copies should be accompanied by a signed letter of authentication and a red spider web seal on the back

The Platinum Edition: this is a special edition of Spiderman #1 with no ads + 10 pages of sketches and pin ups They were made available by Marvel in the Spring of 1991 to (mostly US) retailers only 10,000 were officially printed It has very glossy cardstock stiffer covers

AS MANY OF THESE WERE MAILED THROUGH THE POST, MOST SUFFER FROM SCRATCHES OR CRUMPLED CORNERS ABSOLUTELY NEAR MINT COPIES ARE VERY RARE
